

THE TURF.

Favorites Make a Good Record of Victories at Guttenburg.

TOANO'S SPLENDID SHOWING.

Peculiar Methods of the Racing Judges at Nashville.

That same old trio of favorites won at Guttenburg yesterday. It seems curious that the three favorites win at the hilltop track day after day. This is a better average than is shown on the larger tracks in warm weather. During the past week, there were 107 races run. Favorites won eighty-one times showing that the public was right in about 40 per cent. of the races.

Twenty-three of these favorites started at less than $2.50. Form and system players cannot complain of inconsistent running after glancing at these figures. There have been, it is true, some rather queer looking races during the past week, but on the whole racing is conducted pretty fairly on the hill.

The racing yesterday was excellent. There was only one stirring finish, yet the race was well contested and the best horses won. Houston was the choice of the talent in the first race, and runner credited Mike Dwyer with making one of his characteristic plunges on the colt. It is hard to believe that Mr. Dwyer lost very much money on Houston. The going was heavy save on the outside, and Houston was thus compelled to run farther than any other horse in the race.

Nevertheless, Houston was handsomely played by somebody, and the talent got ahead. They were never in it. Cyanozene, always at home in the heavy going, went to the front in the stretch and won very easily from Toga, who was also well played. Houston was beaten out for third place by Apollo.

Florion, after having dumped his owner twice, won his maiden race in the second event. His race the day before was not a bad one by any means, for he was just galloping for three-quarters of a mile. On the strength of this race the talent had him favored, though it is doubtful if Jack McDonald played him for much.

A tremendous tip on Claymore made that gelding's price drop rapidly, and at the close he was nearly even up with Florion. The latter won easily from Claymore, who got away badly. Little K. ran well, but stopped back in the final furlong because Brier made too much use of her. The first quarter, Patrick will do to watch, and so will Martha Washington. Both ran well.

The third race is hardly worth mentioning. To say that Toano made an exhibition of St. James, Hamster and other good horses. Toano, the cripple, is a great horse.

The fourth race went to the favorite, Equiano, who was well played. He also had him up instead of Penry, and this advantage brought him so close to the winner that he could figure nothing else in it. Therefore, they played on Equiano and landed the money easily.

Perfid was also heavily backed, but was unfortunate, for, as he was about to start, he was hit by a horse named Penry, and he was thrown down by the backstretch, and I couldn't get away. Perfid went after Equiano in the final quarter, but the old horse was too good and he stayed in front to the end. The comments on Perfid and his rider are unjust. Any old horse did his best. Sandys and Virginia had a hot fight for the place, the former landing by a neck.

The fourth race went to the abundance colt at odds of 15 to 1. The readers of this Evening World were fully informed of the horse's form and they managed to win quite a tidy sum through the Evening World's selection. Brier, who was well played, won second, got there all right with comfortable odds against him. The finish between the two was a hot one, and Brier was just bang up against them. Mackintosh did not fancy the going and Tringle was short of work.

The Association yesterday received word on "Pomp" Brodie that he would be on hand to-day to appear before the Committee in relation to the case of the horse, which probably that nothing will come of the affair even after all the fuss. It is a good bet that Brodie won't get up the horse in any event.

Jockey Ray had two mounts yesterday and landed one of them a winner. He is a good boy to follow, and it will be a good bet that he will win some more money for his owner.

The management at Garfield Park are, it is said, thinking of heating their track by steam, so that the cold weather will not freeze them, as it did a few days ago. The company with it, it is said, in a layer of inch rain, which will be a good thing for the track, and a hot and half under foot, and will cost $30,000, and the company guarantees that the track will never freeze.

J. H. McAvoy, the trainer of Fabian, which was pulled at Gloucester a few days ago, has been reinstated. Judge Nelson being convinced that he was an innocent. Naturally, the jockey, has been ruled off, however.

The judges of racing at Nashville must have had their pipes "with them yesterday. They were "addy up" overlooking Ireland in the mile and a half race, and they were placing Blaze like, who won the five-furlong race. One man then went to the judges and asked them to place him in the race. The judges resented this bit of sarcasm. Blaze was rather humorous in fact, and had the man, whose name was Stevenson, ejected from the grounds.

Gen. Jackson, of the Belle Meade stud, sold to the Artie Stable a yearling filly by Kentucky, out of Belle, by King Bead. Price $2,000. Then in the same sale, he sold a yearling filly, by Bramble, out of America, for $1,200.

A JUMPING FINISH.

The Horse Show to Close with a Splendid Contest To-Night.

To-Day's Programme the Most Attractive of the Week.

A Big Attendance of Society Folk Expected at the Finish.

The sixth and last day of the great beauty show in Madison Square Garden opened auspiciously this morning. The success of the show is unparalleled. Fully 70,000 people had passed through the gates up to 11 o'clock last night, when the most brilliant assemblage of the week made the vast amphitheatre a scene to be remembered.

The display of gorgeous gowns, glittering jewels, and many and womanly beauty was alone worth "the price of admission," as the circus man writes, and the high jumping created the wildest sort of enthusiasm. Even this great gathering is expected to be surpassed this afternoon and evening, the last day's programme being the piece de resistance. If 30,000 tickets are not taken up at the gates before midnight the management will be disappointed.

CHILL THINKS BETTER OF IT.
Little Talk Now of Serious Conflict with Uncle Sam.
VALPARAISO, Nov. 21.—If nothing further occurs to change the course of events, there will probably be no more talk of serious differences between Chile and the United States. Little is heard here now of the fiery American sentiment which was expressed just before and just after the Baltimore incident, and the investigation into the circumstances of the assault on the United States sailors has assumed a more judicial aspect.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 21.—Judge Kennedy at noon to-day issued an order to the Onondaga County Board of Canvassers that the erroneous returns in the First Assembly District, rectifying errors in twenty-seven of the fifty-two election districts, shall be sent back for correction, and when such corrections are received to proceed and complete the canvass. The Board must not adjourn for more than three days while awaiting the corrected returns, and is not to issue any statement of certificate of the result without further order of the Court.

WEEKS WANTS A CLEAN BILL.
Asks the Courts to Strike McKenna's Protest from His Certificate.
LONG ISLAND CITY, Nov. 21.—The Queens County Board of Supervisors have been served with an order, granted by Justice Barlett, to show cause why they should not be compelled to rescind a Board of Canvassers and issue a certificate of election to George L. Weeks (Rep.) to the Assembly without the resolutions passed by the Board and the protests filed by James A. McKenna, the Democratic candidate, being attached. Judge Barlett will hear argument on the case on Monday.

BLAZING IN MID-AIR.

A Woman, Her Clothes on Fire, Clinging to a Fire-Escape.

Rescued by a Fireman Hero, but Died a Few Hours Later.

Thrilling Scenes at a Tenement-House Fire in Baxter Street.

Fireman Walter Jones, Assistant Foreman of Engine Company No. 31, saved himself a hero at an early morning fire today. He risked his own life to save that of a woman, but his bravery proved unavailing, as the unfortunate woman died from her injuries a few hours later.

Sixteen families, mostly Italians, live in the ten-story, double brick tenement at 30 Baxter street, owned by Angelus Simonetti, a grocer at 35 Baxter street, aggregating a population of over sixty souls.

Luisi Reali, a clerk at 5 Roosevelt street, lives on the top floor. As his custom, he went through the tenement this morning at 4:30, and then called Simonetti to get up and open his store. The big tenement was then quiet and apparently safe, but as Simonetti stepped out of his store five minutes later he saw flames pouring out of the windows of the third floor of No. 30, from the apartments of John Farodi, who runs a bakery in the basement.

Two alarms quickly brought seven engines, three trucks and a water-tower to the scene. Meanwhile policemen arrived, and with Simonetti aroused the tenants.

The three upper floors were then blazing fiercely, and the terrified inmates rushed out through the halls upon the fire-escapes and roof, and ran to Simonetti's store, where they sought refuge. There they stood weeping and wringing their hands.

All escaped alive save one. She was Barbara Burgess, aged thirty-nine, the German wife of Joseph Burgess, a colored man, who lived on the fourth floor, front. Her five children ran down the stairs and her husband escaped to the roof, but his hair, mustache and eyebrows were singed off.

Mr. Burgess, a large, heavy woman, tried to force her way to the front window, where they were her in their deadly embrace. With a tongue which she died at 8 o'clock. On the way to the fire, Michael Lynch told from Hook and ladder truck No. 5 and from the fire engine.

Simonetti valued his building and lot at $10,000. He insured for $12,500 and his loss will be about $5,000. The three upper floors were gutted, and the loss to tenants will probably reach $10,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp in Farodi's apartment.

Fire broke out in the rooms of Wolf Levy at 30 Norfolk street to-day.

FATALLY HURT IN A FIGHT.
An Evening School Boy Brought Home Dying.
John Hellinger, a lad of seventeen years, died at his parents' home, 256 Seventh street, this morning under circumstances that require a rigid investigation by the Coroner and the police. It is said that the boy was fatally hurt in a prize-fight.

The judge ignored the certificate issued yesterday in favor of Ryan, Democrat.

A stay will be obtained at once by counsel of the Democratic members of the Canvassing Board and an appeal taken to the General Term, now in session here.

PLURALITY FOR A DEAD SENATOR.
Deane Had 192 More Votes Than Osborne in Columbia.
Hudson, Nov. 21.—The canvassers of Columbia County completed their work at a late hour last night and officially declared the result.

This is the canvass on State Senator Edward B. Osborne, 5,073; Gilbert A. Deane, 5,265; Mitchell Downing, 303; Deane's plurality 192.

Effect of Mr. Deane's Death.
ALBANY, Nov. 21.—Attorney-General Taylor said this morning that the death of Senator Deane, the Republican Senatorial candidate in the Fifteenth District, will have no effect whatever upon the canvass by the State Board.

"If Mr. Deane has a plurality in the district," continued the Attorney-General, "the Board of Canvassers must declare him elected, the same as if he were still living."

"The Governor, then taking cognizance of his death, may order a special election, but neither the Board of Canvassers nor the Senate can declare that as Mr. Deane is dead his opponent is entitled to his seat."

In case no special election is held, the Senate could elect the dead member on the ground of fraud and the Governor could then give his seat to Mr. Osborne.

JONES, IS IT TRUE?

That You Pledged to Be Governor, Even for Thirty Days?

And Promised to Do What Was Agreeable, If You Might?

Strange Story Said to Be Vouched for by Two State Officials.

ALBANY, Nov. 21.—It is reported in Democratic circles here that Lieut.-Gov. Jones, while here Wednesday and Thursday of this week, approached three State officials and other prominent Democrats on the subject of the possibility of his becoming Governor.

As the story goes, and it is vouched for by the State officials, Lieut.-Gov. Jones wants to have his name entered upon the State archives as Governor, even for thirty days, and agrees to pledge himself, if he is allowed to fill the Governor's office during the month of December, to carry out every plan Gov. Hill might suggest until Mr. Flower should come into office on the 1st of January.

In other words, Gen. Jones said if he should be allowed to attain his greatest ambition, even for one month, he would not endeavor to use the office in any way, as some Democrats fear he might, and would not make any changes whatever in the State Government.

Two officials who had each been waited upon in turn, told Gen. Jones that they could not consistently be a party to placing in the Governorial chair a man who fought the Democratic State ticket, as did he, at the last election.

$4,000 FOR A HOTEL HALLBOY.

St. Marc's Guests Robbed of Money and Jewelry.

Leroy Turner, a colored hall boy, seventeen years old, of 179 Seventh avenue, was locked in a hotel room, and robbed of $4,000 in money and jewelry from the guests of the St. Marc Hotel, thirty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, where he was employed.

For several weeks past guests have complained to Proprietor J. H. Nutting that their rooms had been robbed. Nutting came to the conclusion that the thief was connected with the house, because all the robberies occurred during the temporary absence of the occupants from their rooms.

Notwithstanding that a close watch was kept on the house, and Mr. Nutting finally decided to call in the assistance of Inspector Byrnes. He detailed Detectives Armstrong and Clark, who installed themselves in the hotel.

From that day the robberies ceased and the detectives thought that the thief had got warning and escaped.

They had their suspicions aroused, however, by the actions of Leroy, who spent most of his time in the hall upstairs when he had no business there, and who was seen several times to look cautiously up and down the hall, and then, believing himself unobserved, "tip-toe" up to a door and peep in.

Leroy was kept in sight and caught, yet he succeeded in eluding the detectives long enough yesterday to rob the room of a Mr. Wheelock, of Chicago. He was not caught in the act and not arrested. When he left for home the detectives followed him.

They saw him enter a pawn shop and pawn a young Heintzberg's ring, worth $100. He said he had found it, but he could not account for a number of pawn tickets for other articles stolen from the hotel which were found in his pocket.

This morning the detectives took Leroy to Jefferson Market Police Court. He was remanded for further examination.

ROBBED THE SAME OLD STORE.

Straight from Sing Sing to Repeat a Former Crime.

Michael Reinhardt, just released from Sing Sing, was turned over to the State Island police this morning by Inspector Byrnes. Reinhardt was wanted for burglarizing a few nights ago the same store he robbed five years ago. He was convicted then and has been in prison ever since.

Reinhardt was formerly employed in Solomon Rosenberg's general store at New Dorp, S. I. On Oct. 26 the place was entered and robbed of $300 worth of goods, and again on Nov. 10.

Detectives Reap and Holland found Reinhardt in a Bowery lodging-house. Harry Chapman, the burglar, was arrested with him. The goods were hidden under a mattress and removed at a convenient time. Pawn tickets for some of the "swag" were found on Reinhardt.

TO CLAIM THE CONVENTION.

A Train-Load of New York Republicans Off for Washington.

New York Democrats and the Two Speakership Contests.

The special train bearing the New York boomers who are to urge the selection of this city for the holding of the Republican National Convention rolled out of the Pennsylvania Depot on its way to Washington at eleven o'clock this morning. It comprised a splendidly appointed Pullman parlor car and a dining-room and observation cars.

The coaches were well filled with New York City's most prominent Republican politicians and hotel men, who propose to demand of the Republican National Committee that they recognize the claims of New York City for the convention because of the peculiar advantages for the holding of a convention which the city offers and its importance to the party.

They will tell the Committee that New York has the best convention hall in the country, the best and the most hotels and the best of everything, in fact, in the way of accommodation.

The only thing which hasn't got a candidate for President, and for that reason they will say that this city should be chosen, as there will be no packing of the galleries in favor of any candidate.

Among the New York boomers were most of the Republican County Executive Committee and President John S. Smith with a score of Republican Club members, all confident of the success of their mission.

Another committee will be busily engaged here meantime in raising a fund to pay the expenses of the Convention about to be determined to hold here. It consists of ex-Gov. Lounsbury, of Connecticut; ex-Secretary of the Treasury Coon and William L. Barry, who introduced the bill for the National Bank, and who have already been pledged $10,000 of it by the boomers, but they want more and they are hustling for it.

Gov. Hill is recognized as an important factor in the contest for the Speakership in the House of Representatives, and the New York boomers are anxious to get him to Albany. Two Speakership caucuses were held in the Governor's room at the Hoffman House yesterday. One had to do with the Assembly, and the other with the National House.

William Sulzer, the young Tammany Assemblyman, who is the choice of this city's delegation for the Speakership, and the Governor were present, and Mr. Sulzer, who is a member of the New York delegation in Congress for Speaker, was the only gentleman present at the other caucus.
